Score:

Note: Think that you are doing the following tasks in the CMD window. The following scenarios are continuous.

Direction: Write the exact internal command to execute the requirement on each scenario. (5 pts each)

1. In drive D, you have to create two directories. Name the directories with your firstname and lastname.
2. On the same drive, create an empty text document on one of the directories created on the first scenario.
3. Change to the directory where you created the text document. Copy the text document to the other directory of drive D.
4. On the current directory, create a subdirectory and name it with your favorite subject.
